THE HILL

Healthwatch
THE HILL'S Healthcare Blog

OVERNIGHT HEALTH: After delay, repeal vote coming next week

Jason Millman January 13, 2011

Welcome to The Hill's evening roundup of the day's health policy news and advance look at tomorrow's schedule.

Thursday's health news:

Tobacco penalties might pose risk: States' tobacco taxes may encourage individuals to use more harmful tobacco products, according to a new report from the free-market National Center for Policy Analysis.